DAILY
PUBLIC LEDGER
MAYSVILLE REPUBLICAN.

FOURTH YEAR. MAYSVILLE, KY., THURSDAY, JANUARY 17, 1895. ONE CENT.

SWORN CIRCULATION

LARGEST IN THE CITY.

Purely Business!

The columns of a newspaper represent a cash value. No publisher can afford to give advertising "notices" free any more than a merchant can toss over his counter free gifts of dry goods or shoes. A newspaper is a legitimate business concern. Its columns are its stock in trade, and advertisements should be paid for, no matter in what part of the paper they appear.

The Continued Calls

upon THE LEDGER for free notices have become so burdensome that we are forced to publish the following rule:

For Notices of Suppers.

excursions, fairs, or other public entertainments where a fee is charged, and for obituary notices, resolutions of respect, &c., THE LEDGER will charge FIVE CENTS A LINE, and hereafter this will be the invariable rule. This, however, notices of Lodge meetings or Church services, which must not exceed ten lines.

Does Not Include

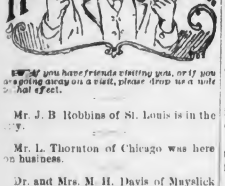
Avoidance of Disputes.

Misunderstandings are unpleasant. The rate for Business Locals in THE LEDGER is 10 cents a line for the first insertion and 5 cents a line for subsequent insertions. A customer orders a five-line local inserted in the paper. "I'll tell you when to take it out," he says to the bookkeeper. But he forgets all about it. The notice runs for two months—32 times;—the bill is $16 25. When he finds it out there is a "kick" and a controversy, followed probably by an icy feeling. Now, to obviate this trouble, no "till forbid" notices will be accepted hereafter. Let's have a definite agreement at the outset and the termination will be pleasant all around.

☞ All matter for publication must be handed in before 9 o'clock in the morning of each day.



☞ If you have friends visiting you, or if you are going away on a visit, please drop us a note to that effect.

Mr. J. B Robbins of St. Louis is in the city.

Mr. L. Thornton of Chicago was here on business.

Dr. and Mrs. M. H. Davis of Mayslick were in the city yesterday.

Mr. W. W. Wikoff is spending a few weeks with relatives at Mason, O.

Mrs. Emma Maltby of Cincinnati is visiting her daughter, Mrs. H. E. Pogue of the West End.

Miss Emma Allen, after spending several weeks in this city with relatives has returned to her home in Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rudy have returned home after spending a few weeks with Rev W. H. Childers and family of Sardis.

Mr. E. H. Blazel, the new Agent of the L. and N., has been joined by his wife and child. They are stopping at the Central.

Miss Cora S. Chappell of Carlisle is in the city attending the protracted meeting at Mitchell Chapel and visiting her cousin, Mrs. W. H. Ryder.

The attraction at the Opera-house tonight is Elmer E. Vance's great realistic railroad comedy drama, "The Limited Mail," which has created such a furore in the dramatic world. It is said to be the most realistic and wonderful and mechanical production ever staged, and the crowds everywhere are enormous. The company is headed by the wonderful Beatrice, that vivacious little lady whose artistic dancing and clever specialties have made her name a household word, not only in this country, but in Europe.

Colonel P. T. Deering of Tuckahoe Ridge killed a monster hawk Tuesday. It measured 4 feet 6 inches from tip to tip of wings. Mr. Deering says it had been the pest of the neighborhood for several years, and had probably destroyed more chickens than any other bird in the state. Tuesday he got on his horse and followed it until his trusty shotgun got in its work.

The lights from Dr. Reed's office shone out with unusual brilliancy a few evenings ago. Passers by but little dreamed that a chess game for the championship of Mason county was in progress on the inside. Colonel Fred Bierbower, the tutor of Sbowalter, the American champion, and who stood third in the National contest, and A. D. McDougle of Germantown were battling on the chess board for supremacy. But, lo! for Colonel Bierbower. Like the pitcher, he went to the well once too often. After three rounds Mr. McDougle was declared the winner and champion of Mason county.

Among the appleants for membership in the Blaine Club was Colonel James E. Fennessy, Manager of the People's Theater. It had the recommendation of George B. Cox. The matter caused some surprise in local political circles, as Mr. Fennessy has heretofore been a Democrat, and was, up to six months ago, a member of the Duckworth Club.

When asked why he joined the Blaine Club, Mr. Fennessy said:

"A number of persons connected with the Blaine Club are my personal friends, and for that reason I thought I would make application for admission to it."

"Does your action mean that you have left the Democratic party?"

"That is what it means."

BIG MONEY!

A Suit Brought at Mount Sterling For $75,000.

A big suit has been brought in the Circuit Court at Mt. Sterling by E. K. Thomas of Bourbon county, against William S. Barnes of Lexington.

The amount, including costs, is $75,000.

Barnes was a member of the firm of Howard, Barnes & Co., distillers, and did business at Mt. Sterling.

In 1879 they failed, and many judgments were awarded against them which were brought by M. M. Clay of Bourbon, who died, leaving his wife administratrix.

She took no steps to collect them.

She died a few months ago, and Mr. Thomas was made administrator, and he brought suit through his attorneys in the nature of a bill of discovery and attached his property at Lexington

DOWNFALL OF MULHOLLAND.

A Paducah Politician and Postmaster May Go to the Pen.

Governor Brown has passed upon a long petition, signed by many prominent people, asking for a pardon before trial for ex-Postmaster Hugh Mulholland of Paducah, who is in Jail there charged with forgery.

The pardon was refused.

In the indorsement on the application the Governor says that President Harrison pardoned Mulholland once for violation of the postal laws, and it should have made him a better man, and that this second offense shows that he has no desire to do right.

Mulholland was one of the best known Republican politicians in the state up to his defalcation as Postmaster at Paducah three years ago, but since his downfall he has repeatedly been in trouble, and his chances for a term in the Penitentiary are now overwhelming.

THE LATE FRANK S. OWENS.

KENTUCKY'S POET LAUREATE PAYS TRIBUTE TO HIS LIFE-LONG FRIEND.

The writer has long known of the intimate and beautiful friendship that existed between the late Colonel Frank S. Owens and Kentucky's most talented poet. He was not surprised, therefore, on receipt of the following note and the tribute accompanying it:

FRANKFORT, KY., Jan. 15th, 1895.

Dear Tom: Here is a rather hasty notice of the death of Frank Owens which I would like to have you print in THE LEDGER. Yours truly, HENRY T. STANTON.

Thomas A. Davis, Maysville, Ky.

FRANK OWENS.

Frank Owens was a man of such exceptional characteristics, such delicate, almost womanly nature, and at the same time of so many high attributes of manhood, that it is by no means an easy thing for any friend to leave a true impression of what his life has been.

An acquaintance of more than forty years, from his boyhood to his maturity and up to the day of his death, is not sufficient to tell faithfully all that he was. As a youth he was known to some of the older citizens of Maysville more intimately than to any of the new generation. An open, joyous, free-hearted boy, he took part in all of the sports and entertainments of the town and developed a leadership that never deserted him in growing years. He had an acute sense of humor and did more in his quiet way to promote laughter and pleasure than all others of the society of his day. There were no rude features, or any sign of real unkindness in anything he did. His practical jokes, and they were many, left no sting behind—they brought only the ephemeral laughter he sought.

Entering business at an early stage and making a brave struggle for himself, for he had no patrimony save the high character of his ancestors, he first won the respect and confidence of his employers and afterwards that of the entire community with which he came to deal more directly.

Checked in his first conspicuous adventure as senior member of the firm of Owens & Barkley by a destroying fire he had the sympathy of every merchant and patron of the district in which the operations of his house were carried on, and there was only a brief interval until its re-establishment.

Of his entire business career the whole of Eastern Kentucky and parts of Southern Ohio and West Virginia are perhaps more familiar than is the writer of this. It was active, honorable and successful throughout. The firm had trusting friends everywhere and no confidence given to it was ever betrayed.

It is more in the line of his social life that the writer of this prefers to recall his memory. An intimate association with him throughout the years has had the influence to chrystallize his generous, noble nature and make it everywhere apparent to recollection.

He was modest, almost to shyness, in approaching new social elements, and oftentimes it was not without a real struggle that he obtained his own consent to go abroad in society. His diffidence was always apparent at the outset and his progress of new acquaintance was slow, but his entry into the respect and regard of all with whom he came in contact was sure. He seemed to shrink from the walks of public life, and had no overweening desire to affiliate with public men; but in the latter years of his time he gradually permitted himself to be led out of the strict business lines, and became an associate and friend of many of the most conspicuous men in the state. His relations with the late Governor Blackburn were noticeably cordial and close—perhaps more so than with any others of that day—but he knew many and was respected of all.

His manner was always quiet though his face was expressive and his smile ran like a ripple over it. His clear eyes and his pleasant smile—with an always modulated and gentle voice—never failed to bring him welcome wherever he went, in whatever class of society.

He had perhaps a larger acquaintance and more social friends than any man in Eastern Kentucky. His fondness for out-of-door sports, for fishing and hunting, came as hereditary from the pioneers of his family. His old uncle, Frank Preston, from whom his first name was derived, was in great measure responsible for his feature, since in his lifetime he did much to encourage it.

Nothing too good can be said of the life of this most gentle and generous man, and it is not in the power of one to whom he was near and dear for almost a half century, to say the half of what he feels. The calamity of his death can only bring sorrow and silence to his friends, for words cannot express tenderness truly, nor depict grief really. H. T. S.

MAKE TRAVEL FREE!

LET ALL THE PEOPLE HAVE EQUAL BENEFITS!

A large taxpayer—whose present outlay in turnpike tolls in this county doesn't amount to $1 a year on the average, but who will, if the turnpikes are made free and kept up by general taxation, have to pay a good many extra dollars each year —writes as follows to THE LEDGER:

CINCINNATI, Jan. 12th, 1895.

Mr Thomas A. Davis, Public Ledger—

Dear Sir: The publication in your paper of the 10th inst., upon the issue of free turnpikes, is to my mind of no less importance to the people of Mason county and Maysville than it was for the declaration for the independence of the colonies of America for a free Government. The embargo which has been laid against the people these many years must be removed. If it is not, nothing short of an enslaved, miserable people of the county and city can be the final result.

The motto of our Government is equality to all and special privileges to none. Always, when you defend the interest of the people, you will have done a public duty which never goes unrewarded by the honest people of Maysville and Mason county. With kind regards, I remain yours truly,

S. N MEYER.

THE LEDGER wants every neighborhood to have good roads, and it wants to make the burden equal on all the people

One way to accomplish this is to acquire the roads by purchase, place them in charge of a non partisan Commission, and levy a small per cent. on the county assessment to maintain them.

But the most logical and the most equitable and as we believe the most economical way to accomplish the purpose is to ascertain from the owners the average yearly receipts of the gates within this county on all roads and to pay an equivalent to the tolls now received from a fund to be provided by equal taxation for that purpose.

This would leave the roads in the hands of present owners.

They would be required to maintain them as now.

They would be rid of the expense of the gatekeepers and tollhouses.

And their income from tolls would be just what it now is.

For nearly fifty years all the people have been taxed for the benefit of only a part of the people;

THE LEDGER now wants all the people taxed for the benefit of all the people.

Let "Free Travel" be the watchword in the next campaign in Mason county.

NORMAL SCHOOL.

An Important Matter to Teachers in Kentucky's Public Schools.

Georgetown College, appreciating the earnest desire of the teachers of the Public Schools to fit themselves in the best manner possible for their work, decided last June to open a Normal Department for the last half of the scholastic year. I am glad to announce now to all teachers that instruction in that Department will begin January 22d, the opening of the spring term of the College. The instruction will be in charge of the Faculty of the College and will be thorough and in keeping with the best modern methods. Dr. Rucker will have charge of Mathematics, Dr. Yager, Civil Government, Dr. Eastwood, Natural Sciences, Miss Pollard, History. Professor Pulliam, English Grammar and general Normal methods. In addition to the general Normal course the teachers may avail themselves of the advantages of any or all the classes in the College, and in this way fit themselves, if desired, for advanced work. For this year it has been decided that no tuition fee will be charged. It is hoped that many teachers will avail themselves of this opportunity. Good boarding can be had in the town for from $3 to $3 50 per week. The College boarding halls are now full, or still better rates could be offered.

Correspondence with teachers is most earnestly solicited. For further information in reference to the Normal Course or the College, address

BOOMING!

SOME SEQUELS TO THE LATE REPUBLICAN VICTORY.

Returning Prosperity—Factories Starting Up—Work for American Workmen.

[Before the election THE LEDGER argued that Republican success meant a restoration of confidence, the opening of American factories and workshops, the return of business to its wonted channels, profitable and steady employment for American workingmen, and an era of renewed prosperity all along the line. That the hopes held out by THE LEDGER were not false ones is being fully demonstrated. Below are a few evidences of the business revival that treads on the heel of the great Republican victory.—EDITOR.]

The tinplate plant of the St. Louis Stamping Company, St. Louis, Mo., is now running full on a non Union basis.

Chicago steel manufacturers are quoted as saying "the new Carnegie wage scale will force us to make similar reductions when our contracts expire. With competition as sharp as it is now, steel selling at the lowest prices on record, a wage reduction by so great a competitor as the Carnegie Steel Company cannot be over looked or ignored."

The Alabama Iron and Steel Company of Gate City, Ala., has signed the A. A scale and resumed operations, after a protracted idleness of more than a year, and is expected to run steady the balance of the scale year. As this plant is a fairly large one, employment will be given to quite a number of idle men.

At Hiawatha, Kas., a co-operative car and manufacturing company has been organized with a capital stock of $50,000, all of which has been paid up and operations begun. In the organization of the company five of the Directors are chosen from the stockholders and four from the men employed in the shop. Recently 123 persons, men women and children, formerly connected with the Pullman Palace Car Company at Pullman, left Chicago for Hiawatha—in all about twenty five families.

The Southern Railway Company will complete the unfinished shops started several years ago by the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia at Knoxville, and equip them for locomotive building with a capacity of two hundred locomotives a year. The total cost of the plant will be $400,000. Additional contracts have been let for the construction of the double-track electric railway between Washington and Baltimore, and a site secured for one of the three large power houses to be built to operate this line. The total cost will be $1,000,000.

Special reports to The Manufacturers' Record show a considerable degree of activity in Southern industrial matters. Cotton manufacturing continues to command much attention, and during the week some contracts have been let on the half million dollar mill to be built in Alabama by a Massachusetts company, and in North Carolina a $100,000 cotton mill company has been organized. In Mississippi a new cotton mill company is projected, and in several other Southern states a number of companies are being worked up.

A movement is on at Lexington to increase saloon license to $1,000 a year.

Judge Parker of Lexington threw a bomb into the Circuit Court by instructing the Grand Jury to look into the practice of policemen and other officers arresting persons who have committed trivial offenses and charging them with felonies. The Judge intimates that the Commonwealth has in this way been robbed, and he intends to break up this nefarious business

AMERICA FOR AMERICANS AMERICANS

McKINLEY AND WILSON ABROAD.

In 1890 William McKinley was burned in effigy in the English manufacturing city of Sheffield; but in 1894 William E. Wilson was dined and wined in London because he is the author of a Free-trade Tariff Bill. These are significant facts.

UNDER the new woolen duties which went into effect on Jannary 1st, manufacturers must rednce prices, otherwise foreign goods will take the place of the American product. Of course the prices of American goods will be reduced to meet the exigencies of the situation, but along with rednced prices of cloth there must come redneed prices of labor.

A VERY important investigation is now being undertaken by R. G. DUN & Co.'s Mercantile Agency on the earnings of labor, inquiries being made from thousands of employes, which show that in the same establishments there are 10.2 per cent. more people employed than a year ago, but 8.6 per cent. less than in 1892. The average of earnings for over 250,000 hands is 4 per cent. larger than in November, 1893, but 14½ per cent. less than for November, 1892. The returns are gathered from the payrolls of several thousand manufacturers for November, 1894, 1893 and 1892, and they show an increase in the total payments of 15.2 per cent. over 1893, but a decrease of 18.3 per cent. as compared with 1892. In some of the industries there are more hands at work than two years ago, while in others the decrease is very large. In no single case, however, are the earnings of labor as great as they were two years ago. This ought to be concinsive proof to workingmen that Protertion and good wages to hand-in-hand, while Free-trade and poor pay pave the way to the Poorhouse.

WHEN the Wilson Committee of Ways and Means was considering the Tariff question in the House of Representatives, says The Commercial Gazette, the Republican members were excinded. It was a purely partisan consideration, and yet it was a business transaction. One would suppose that an Interchange of views on a question of such momentous importance would be sought rather than avoided, yet the Republican members were hardly permitted to read the bill until it was reported to the House for action. In the Senate Finance Committee, which had the same bill under consideration, a similar method was followed, and Senator SHERMAN stated that he knew no more about its proceedings than if he were not a member. The same was true of every Republican who was supposed to be a part of the committee. What would be thought of bank directors or railroad directors who would adopt a policy of that kind in dealing with questions involving vital interests of stockholders? The public verdict must be that this is not the way to transact business.

ALWAYS AN AMERICAN

New York Press.

Ex-President Harrison was arguing a case in an Indiana Court last week, when one of the opposing lawyers referred to the fact that an ex-President of the United States was on the other side. Gen. Harrison instantly replied: "There is no ex-President in this case. Simply a citizen of Indiana, who is here as a member of the Bar attending to his business as an attorney." This was the typical utterance of a typical American citizen. In it spoke the sturdy Americanism that marked every act of Benjamin Harrison's able and patriotic Administration. Gen. Harrison takes a righteous pride in his citizenship. He believes that the title of an American citizen is an enduring honor to the man who worthily bears it.

COURT DEFIED.

A Jury Ignores the Distinct Command of a Judge,

Refusing to Bring in a Verdict in Accordance With His Instructions.

A Juror Committed to the Marshal in Contempt of Court—One of the Most Remarkable Scenes in Legal Annals Occurs in a Chicago Court.

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—A jury in the United States court created a sensation Wednesday by defying the distinct command of Judge Seaman, and refusing to bring in a verdict in accordance with the court's instructions. The case at issue was the $5,000 damage suit of Marie Cahill, a young girl who was run over and crippled on November 25, 1892, by an engine of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad on the leased tracks of the stock yards company.

In charging the jury Judge Seaman told them that the evidence showed that no responsibility attached to the defendant; that it was the lessees of the tracks of the stock yards company, upon which company involved the responsibility of providing a proper crossing at the point where the accident occurred, and I structed them to return a verdict for the defendant.

One after another the jurors arose and said:

"Your honor, I can not render such a verdict."

Judge Seamans' face flushed. He gazed at the rebellious jurors for a moment, and then told them to go into the jury room and agree upon a verdict. As the jury were filing out of the room, Lawyer Prendergast, for the plaintiff, arose and said:

"This is the most remarkable proceeding I have ever witnessed. I desire to take exception to the charge of the court to the jury. The court has no right to command the jury to render a verdict for the defendants. The jury is the sole authority in this matter."

The members of the jury are all from outside of Chicago.

At 5 o'clock the jury returned and the judge addressed the jurors in relation to his instructions when the case was given to them, explaining that the case had become a matter between the court and the jury, and his instructions had been to find for the defendant as a matter of law.

The judge's talk was vigorously objected to by Mr. Prendergast, the court allowing the exceptions. Finally Judge Seamans announced that the jurors would be called one at time to give their verdict. All the jurors save one announced their previous finding for the plaintiff, but consented to find for the defendant under protest.

Mr. Clayton, the one juror who refused to find for the defendant, was committed to the marshal in contempt of court. After a recess the jury again returned, but Juror Clayton reiterated his former statements, and that with all the respect for the court, he could not return a verdict for the defendant.

Mr. Prendergast then endeavored to induce the court to nonsuit his case, or dismiss the jury, such action to be considered as equivalent to a verdict returned in response to the court's order, with the stipulation that the action was to be under the plaintiff's protest. This the court decided to do.

The counsel for the defense objected to the day's proceedings going on the records, but the objection was overruled, and further hearing postponed until Thursday. Mr. Prendergast gave notice that the plaintiff appealed the case.

Twenty Horses Suffocated.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 17.—The livery stable of John Scudder, on West Ohio street, caught fire Wednesday night and resulted in the suffocation of about twenty horses. The origin of the fire is unknown. The situation was so threatening to the business quarter and to the large German Methodist church near by that a second relay of engines was called out.

Servants Have Rights.

PORTLAND, Ind., Jan. 17.—Mrs. Matilda E. Williams has brought suit in the Wells county court against Lewis Gephart for slander, and asks $10,000 damages. The plaintiff was a domestic in Gephart's house, and during her sojourn he claims to have missed various sums of money. The case began Wednesday with ten attorneys and fifty witnesses in attendance

Shot His Son Dead.

WAYCROSS, Ga., Jan. 17.—F. C. Johns shot his son Frank through the heart, killing him instantly. Johns had sent his daughter away, and his son pleaded with him to bring her back. When Johns refused his son fired at him with a shotgun, breaking his leg. The father then shot his son dead.

He Slew His Brother.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 17.—D. N. Williamson shot and killed his brother, William, near Fayettsville Wednesday. The brothers have been on bad terms for some time, and William Williamson returned from Alabama a few days ago with the avowed intention of killing his brother

A Severe Storm.

MOBILE, Ala., Jan. 17.—A severe rain storm struck this city, which seemed to center near points on the Eastern bay, where it developed into a tornado. Much hail fell, and there was a water spout formed in the bay. Fifty feet of the wharf at Battels was blown away.

PORTSMOUTH, Eng., Jan. 17.—Letters received here from China say that the plague has broken out at Amoy. The average number of deaths is seventy-five daily.

SENATOR HILL'S PLAN

Knocked on the Head, But He Secures an Important Amendment.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—After a debate covering a week, the Senate Wednesday voted down Mr. Hill's proposition to refer the legality of the income tax to the courts, only five senators joining with Mr. Hill in supporting the proposition. But the vote was not taken until late in the day, and up to that time there was a spirited debate that the Hill proposition had called out. Mr. Vest was the principal speaker of the day, and, in view of his service on the tariff conference committee, there was great interest manifested in some of the committee secrets which he felt justified in disclosing. In the course of his speech Mr. Vest called attention to the gravity of the tariff war which foreign countries had begun against the United States, as a result of the one-tenth sugar differential. Although the Hill bill, in referring the income tax to the courts, he secured the adoption of an important amendment limiting the interrogatories of the officers seeking to collect the tax.

The amendment will have the effect of compelling the treasury department to change its regulations as to collecting the income tax. Mr. Lodge's effort to have the income tax officials placed under civil service rules was defeated. The income tax appropriation was then taken up and the deficiency appropriation bill passed.

Mr. Lodge presented an amendment to the income tax appropriation providing that the tax should be under civil service rules. The amendment was defeated—17 to 34.

Mr. Quay again sought to get the income tax before the courts by proposing a new section, but on the yea and nay vote the section was defeated, 19 to 32.

THE INCOME TAX TEST CASE.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The hearing in the case of John G. Moore against Commissioner of Internal Revenue Miller, brought to test the constitutionality of the income tax law, was resumed Wednesday in the district equity court. Attorney Jere Wilson made the opening argument and Assistant Atty.-Gen. Whitney and Solicitor of Internal Revenue Hough represented the government. A decision will be rendered Wednesday.

ANOTHER DISTRICT JUDGE FOR ALABAMA.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Representative Wheeler, of Alabama, has introduced into the house a bill to provide for an additional U. S. district judge for the Northern district of Alabama; also a bill providing that the general government donate the Mount Vernon (Ala.) barracks and surrounding land for the use of the state of Alabama.

PAUNCEFOTE DINES GRESHAM.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The British ambassador and Lady Pauncefote gave a dinner Wednesday night in honor of Secretary of State and Mrs. Gresham. All the cabinet officers and a number of members of the diplomatic corps were present.

DONATION TO CATHOLIC UNIVERSITY.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Joseph Banigan, the founder of the St. Mnria Home for Working Girls at Providence, R. I., has donated $50,000 to endow a chair of political economy in the Catholic University here.

BRYAN AFTER "GOLD BUGS."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Representative Bryan (dem., Neb.) has introduced a bill to provide for the coinage of the seigniorage. A feature of the bill provides that any person presenting to the treasury greenbacks or treasury notes and demanding their redemption in gold or silver, for the purpose of embarrassing the government, injuring its credit or compelling or securing an issue of bonds, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, be punished by imprisonment for not less than five years.

THEY WANT CLERKS CLASSIFIED.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—A delegation of postmasters from the principal cities were at the capitol Wednesday to urge the committee on rules to assign a day for a vote on the bill to classify clerks in the postal offices. The postmasters of New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Newark, New Haven, Minneapolis, Washington and other cities were in the party.

FOR WASHINGTON'S POOR.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—There has been much suffering among the poor in Washington, due to the recent cold snap. Wednesday John R. McLean, of the Cincinnati Enquirer, gave $5,000 to the Associated Charities here. President Cleveland gave $100.

DELAWARE'S GOVERNOR.

Indignant Refutation by the Legislature of the Story About Him.

WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 17.—The house of representatives, at noon, Wednesday adopted the following, but it was tabled in the senate:

"Be it resolved by the senate and house of representatives in general assembly met. That both houses of the legislature condemn the article which appeared in a paper called the Philadelphia Record, dated January 16, 1895, reflecting upon the governor of the state of Delaware.

"Resolved, further, That a joint committee of two members of the senate and three of the house be appointed to investigate the authorship."

The statement objected to was that Gov. Marvel is unable to read or even write further than to trace the lines necessary to mechanically form his name. It was declared Wednesday by men who know Mr. Marvel that he can both read and write.

Dishonest Officials.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—Leaders of the reform movement in this city stated Wednesday that they had already received enough evidence to convict fifteen officials of dishonorable acts in office.

SICKENING

Was the Scene at Butte After the Powder Explosion.

Number of Killed, Sixty; Wounded Over One Hundred.

Many of the Killed Were Torn Into Bloody Scraps, and if Gathered Together, Could Not Be Identified—The Loss to Property One Million Dollars.

BUTTE, Mont., Jan. 17.—The frightful havoc to life and property by Tuesday night's explosion of a powder train, increased with further developments Wednesday morning. The mangled remains of forty-five persons are at the morgue, and a number more are missing. Over one hundred more are injured, many of them fatally. Every hospital in the city is crowded.

Many of the dead were so frightfully mangled that identification is impossible. Heads, arms, legs and other parts of bodies were picked up all about the scene of the explosion for a radius of five blocks. Fingers, brains and fragments of flesh were gathered up with shovels and deposited in baskets.

Between the Northern Pacific and Great Northern depots, a space of 300 feet, the ground was literally covered with parts of human bodies and with the dead and injured. The scene was one of utter and absolute destruction. The houses in the vicinity were as thoroughly wrecked as if a cyclone had passed through them.

Many of the killed contained no marks of bruises, having been killed by the concussion. Many were seriously injured by flying bricks, stones and debris at a distance of several blocks from the explosion. The concussion was felt for miles and many of the largest buildings, like the Ousley block and Lewisohn building and others, rocked like cradles.

Only three firemen present at the scene escaped being killed. Chief Cameron was blown to atoms, and the only thing found of him was his belt attached to a charred portion of his body. The firemen who escaped were Dave Moses, Dave McGee and J. H. Flannery.

Up to daylight Weanesday morning little or nothing could be learned with accuracy as to the full extent of the disaster and even yet it is impossible to give complete lists of the killed and wounded. Many of the former were so mangled and dismembered that identification is impossible, while the wounded are distributed throughout the city in private residences, so that a complete census can not be made.

Enough is known, however, to warrant the statement that the death roll will reach sixty at least, while the injured number 100 or more.

It was about 10 o'clock when the first explosion occurred. A small fire had broken out in a storage shed of the Kenyon-Connell Co., near the tracks of Montana Central road. It was not suspected that explosives were stored in the structure, as such storage is in violation of the city ordinance.

The firemen, therefore, went to work without any idea of danger, and when the first explosion occurred, killing at least twelve of the firemen, the calamity was wholly unexpected. The men rallied bravely, however, and with such of the fire apparatus as had escaped destruction, attacked the flames, which during the confusion had gained great headway. The work was progressing favorably when a second explosion occurred.

The first, it is believed, was caused by nitroglycerin. It was bad enough, but the second, which resulted from the ignition of two cars of giant powder standing on the side track beside the burning building, was absolutely appalling in its force. The shock shattered buildings, knocked down chimneys and rent limb from limb of men within three hundred yards of it.

It wiped out of existence what remained of the fire department, killing men and horses and converting the fire engines in heaps of twisted and discolored metal. This explosion was the most fatal of the three, for the reason that when a quantity of giant powder stored in the warehouse of the Butte Warehouse Co. blew up a few minutes later, there was practically no one left to be killed. The last explosion, however, was fully as powerful as the second.

The warehouse was absolutely annihilated, not one stone being left upon another, and where the building had stood a great black hole, like the crater of a volcano, told of the force of the ignited explosive.

The list of dead was swelled late Wednesday night by the death of John Sloan, Sr., and Bailey Dunford.

Th principal losses so far as ascertained are the Butte Hardware Co., $60,000, no insurance; Kenyon-Connell Commercial Co., $30,000 insured for $6,000; Caplice & Brannagan, loss $12,000; no insurance; Royal Milling Co., loss $15,000; no insurance.

The Montana Central railroad's loss in wrecked buildings and burned cars will reach many thousands. The destruction of residences in the vicinity and wreck of plate glass all over town will increase the total loss to nearly $1,000,000.

Counterfeit Sensation Exploded.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The Central News correspondent in Madrid sends this dispatch: "A sensation has been caused by the discovery that 24,000,000 Spanish silver dollars are in circulation. The Spanish officials say that the dollars are produced in France and America. Certain bankers here are suspected of complicity in the distribution of them."

Valuable Mare Dead.

FREEPORT, Ill., Jan. 17.—May Marshall, 3:0934, by Billy Wilkes, died here Wednesday of lung fever. She was owned by M. F. McHenry, who refused $10,000 for the mare. Her world record for pacing mares was made at Nashville, October 19, 1893.

THE FRENCH CRISIS.

How the Leading Newspapers Look Upon the Resignation of President Perier—The Ministry Discuss the situation.

PARIS, Jan. 17.—A meeting of the French ministry was held at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of discussing the changed situation in view of the resignation of President Casimir-Perier.

There was a full attendance of members of M. Dupuy's cabinet, and the gravity of the position was fully taken into consideration.

A meeting of socialist members of the chamber of deputies has been called for Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of deciding upon the course to be pursued by the socialist group in view of the election of M. Casimir-Perier's successor, and discussing the availability of candidates.

As the resignation of the cabinet, followed by that of the president, is regarded by the group as a socialist triumph, it is assumed that the leaders of that organization will assume a thoroughly aggressive attitude.

The notion of M. Casimir-Perier in abandoning his office in the face of the enemy is vigorously denounced by the newspapers, which regard his withdrawal at this time as an act of cowardice.

Commenting on his resignation, the Journal Des Debats, which is extremely mild in its criticism as compared with many other journals, says: "History will explain the retirement of M. Casimer-Perier, but it remains to be seen whether the act will be justified."

The Matin says the president ought to have dissolved the chambers instead of resigning his office.

The Figaro says: "If the president persists in his deplorable resolution to retire from office at this time, all Europe will judge him as severely as France does."

The Gaulois strongly condemns the step the president has taken and characterizes his resignation as an act of desertion while under fire.

The Nutin is also very severe in its criticisms of the president's course, and declares that instead of running away at the first hostile demonstration of his enemies, he should have dissolved the chamber without hesitation or delay and submitted his proposition to the judgment of the people of the republic.

HAYWARD'S NERVE.

The Presumed Murderer of Miss Ging Confronts Her Sister.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Jan. 17.—Harry Hayward's nerve did not desert him when the state's attorney brought the supposed murderer of Miss Catherine Ging face to face suddenly with Miss Julia Ging, of Auburn, N. Y., the twin sister of the murdered woman. The meeting was arranged for the purpose of trying the nerve and conscience of Hayward, no intimation being given him.

The prisoner looked calm, bowed and said:

"From appearances I should say this was Miss Julia Ging. Is not this Miss Ging?" The woman gave a nod of affirmation only. Hayward went on to protest his innocence, and declared he could convince Miss Ging if he had a long talk with her. His visitor repeated the prisoner's words: "Time will tell."

AN INVESTIGATION.

Tennessee Election Business Will Be Looked Into.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 17.—In the house, Wednesday morning, Representative Baker, republican, introduced a resolution calling for the investigation of the charge that George K. Whitworth late clerk and master of the chancery court of Davidson county, gave out to voters, in August last, several thousand poll tax receipts which he had promised ready signed from the county trustee, and later read from the Nashville American in substantiation of the charge, if it were that, he said, it would vatiate the election of the Davidson delegation in the legislature. A democratic member from Davidson moved the adoption of the resolution and it was passed.

Fears for Arctic Explorers.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The Pall Mall Gazette says that fears for the safety of the Nansen Arctic expedition are general among Arctic voyagers of Great Britain and Scandinavia. Lieut. Hovgaard, of the Dimphna expedition, which was wrecked in the Kara sea, has expressed the opinion to the Danish Geographical society that there is no question but the Fram has been crushed in the ice and that Dr. Nansen and his party are retreating.

Weavers on a Strike.

LYONS, France, Jan. 17.—A dispatch received here from Roanne, department of the Loire, situated about 50 miles from this city, says that 3,000 weavers who are out on a strike there threatened to attack the mills. The subprefect thereupon read the riot act and a detachment of gendarmes charged upon and dispersed the mob. M. Carnaud, a socialist member of the chamber of deputies, was arrested for threatening the subprefect.

Excessive Use of Snuff.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 17.—Rose Ann Wood, colored, was found dead in her bed at Fayettville, Tenn., Wednesday morning. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict that she "came to her death either by strangulation from snuff or a disease of the heart, superinduced by snuff." She used snuff excessively, and a post-mortem examination revealed balls of snuff as large as a man's thumb in her throat and stomach.

To Succeed Gov. Bowie.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 17.—The rumor was current in financial circles Wednesday that Mr Benj. W. Newcomer, president of the Safe Deposit and Trust Co., of Baltimore, had been proffered the presidency of the Baltimore & Potomac railroad, a part of the Pennsylvania system, to succeed the late ex-Gov. Oden Bowie

THE MASSACRE.

Unspeakable Acts of the Japanese at Port Arthur.

A Newspaper Correspondent Takes Snap Shots of the Scenes.

The Troops Lost All Control and Butcheres Everybody They Found—The Inhabitants Driven Like Sheep Into Groups and Shot Down in Cold Blood.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Jan. 17.—Among the passengers by the Empress of Japan was Frederick Villiers, war correspondent and artist, who arrived straight from the seat of war. What he asked regarding the truth of the stories of the massacres at Port Arthur. Villiers said that unfortunately it was only too true.

On the 21st, when Port Arthur was captured, Oyama decided that the Japanese should occupy the town and the Yamagata regiment was ordered to perform this duty. They entered the town, Villiers (London Standard), Creelman (New York World), and Cowan (London Times), being with them. Just inside the city were three mutilated heads of Japanese stuck on poles, and no sooner had the troops seen these than they lostall control and indiscriminately butchered everybody they found. Oyama had issued a proclamation that none of the inhabitants should be molested, so the natives were standing in groups on the street watching the entry of the soldiers. They were driven like sheep into groups and shot down in cold blood. That was kept up all of the first day. On the second day the soldiers broke open stores and houses and shot down men, women and children who were hiding. No one was spared, neither young nor old. The third and fourth days the butchery continued, officers not even attempting to check the men. Many of the bodies were horribly mutilated.

On the third day of the massacre the Japanese officers recognized that they had made a mistake and attempted to conceal the butchery by throwing clothes of Chinese soldiers over the bodies. Villiers, Creelman and Cowan witnessed the killing of many and Villiers has taken several snap shots which bear undeniable truth of the butchery. When these statements sent out by the Japanese legation at Washington, justifying the massacre, Villiers said it was impossible to justify it, as no resistance was offered. The first day was excusable, as the soldiers lost all control on seeing the mutilated bodies, but after they had time to reflect there was no excuse. Villiers said the town had a population of 1,000 to 2,000, and but from 35 to 40 were left alive, and those had tickets signed by the Japanese officers signifying that they were not to be killed. It was a terrible sight, and it made them very depressed, as the correspondents had formed a high opinion of the Japanese from their previous conduct.

At Kin Chow the inhabitants welcomed them and called them "Angels from Heaven," and everywhere else they had acted in a civilized manner. Their conduct at Port Arthur, however, showed that they were still savages.

De Guerville, the Herald correspondent, was strongly denounced by Villiers, who claims he is in the pay of the Japanese government to defend them from their conduct at Port Arthur.

De Guerville, he says, was not at the front at all, but stayed with Field Marshal Oyama in the rear, living in comfort and obtaining hearsay reports. He also denounces him for informing the Japanese government that Creelman was a Chinese spy, as thereby their lives were endangered. He promised to expose him on his arrival in New York. All De Guerville did, says Villiers, was to collect trophies and drink wine.

Wei-Hai-Wei, Villiers says, will be captured this winter, but Pekin will not be reached. Creelman returns home on the next Empress.

Big Reward for Taylor.

PIERRE, S. D., Jan. 17.—The governor has issued a proclamation offering a reward of $30,000, which will be paid for the apprehension and rendition to the authorities of South Dakota of W. W. Taylor, late defaulting treasurer of this state. The senate has also passed and the house will pass Thursday a bill granting the attorney-general $10,000, to be used in employing detectives for Taylor's apprehension and in prosecuting his bondsmen and recovering their property. It is believed that Taylor has gone to South America.

Lured to Death.

HERMOSILLO, Mex., Jan. 17.—Frank Debs, a young American who was making a horseback trip from the City of Mexico to San Francisco, has been killed by the Yaqui Indians in the mountains southeast of here. Debs was warned not to attempt to cross the Yaqui country but was allured into the dangerous section by the report that mines of fabulous richness were to be found there.

Peculiar Sight in the Heavens.

CLINTON, Ia., Jan. 17.—For several hours nearly directly overhead appeared a brilliant segment of a circle convex toward the sun and north of it several degrees. In addition two bright "sun dogs" appeared east and west of the sun and much nearer to it, the brilliant circle being far outside and to the north of the circle of which the "sun dogs" formed a part. The unusual object was of very bright colors.

The Pretender on the Move.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—The duke of Orleans, pretender to the throne of France, left Stowe house Wednesday for Dover. It is presumed that he is going to Belgium or that he will meet his supporters at Dover. Consequently it is believed that the royalists of France are preparing to take some action in view of the crisis in France.

To Wind Up the Season

We have just completed our first inventory, and we are more than pleased with the results of our four months labor. Whilst our margin of profit has been less than honest Boots and Shoes were ever sold for, the volume of our business did the work for us. We find, however, more winter stock on hand than we are willing to carry over, and this we place on sale at prices never before heard of. Come and see the goods we offer in this sale. You will find them so cheap you will buy them whether you need them or not. You can afford to lay them aside until you do need them. Cost of the goods is not considered in this sale.

The Monk!

By MATTHEW G. LEWIS, (MONK LEWIS.)

Mr. Lewis was a member of the British Parliament, and his book became so popular in England a hundred years ago that it gained for him the title of "Monk Lewis."

It is a fine piece of classic composition, and after being out of print for many years it has been republished from the original text.

It is far superior to "Maria Monk" and books of that class never.
